In electrical engineering and mechanical engineering, a transient response is the response of a system to a change from an equilibrium or a steady state. The transient response is not necessarily tied to abrupt events but to any event that affects the equilibrium of the system. The impulse response and step response are transient responses to a specific input (an impulse and a step, respectively).

Definition. Tay, Mareels and Moore (1997) defined settling time as "the time required for the response curve to reach and stay within a range of certain percentage (usually 5% or 2%) of the final value."

In general, the three integral parts of the hydrogels preparation are monomer, initiator, and cross-linker. To control the heat of polymerization and the final hydrogels properties, diluents can be used, such as water or other aqueous solutions.

Notes on Taxonomy and Nomenclature Top of page. The name Tomato yellow leaf curl virus (TYLCV) was coined in the early 1960s to describe a virus transmitted by the whitefly Bemisia tabaci that affected tomato cultures in Israel (Cohen and Harpaz, 1964). Early diagnosis of TYLCV was essentially based on symptom observation, although symptoms vary greatly as a function of soil, growth conditions ...
