Senescence (/ s ɛˈ ɛː n ɛː s ɛˈ ɛː n s /) or biological aging is the gradual deterioration of functional characteristics. The word senescence can refer either to cellular senescence or to senescence of the whole organism. Organismal senescence involves an increase in death rates and/or a decrease in fecundity with increasing age, at least in the later part of an organism's life cycle.

A portable source of light probably started with a cave man carrying a burning stick of wood. There have been many portable light sources based on burning something. Once the dry cell battery became available flashlights became more popular than they were when a lead acid or other wet battery was needed.
